

Mission Statement

Sociopolitical contribution

As an operator of facilities for seniors and handicapped persons, we maintain and create quality nursing and care programs as well as attractive, adaptable living arrangements and make a social and sociopolitical contribution to the further development of the community.

A home from home

We provide high-quality assistance and care for the residents entrusted to us and offer a safe home. Here, respect for people with their individual biographies and the self-determination of each individual is at the core of our actions. We ensure a high quality of living, among other things through multifaceted programs for active participation in social life inside and outside our facilities and living arrangements.

High standards of quality

We stand for excellent care and service quality, which we constantly develop further. Committed employees, high quality standards of affiliated companies (Dusmann-Service), and long-term partnerships ensure our quality and further development.

Qualified personnel

Motivated and qualified employees are the backbone of our success. Every individual makes a contribution in the workplace. We promote personal and professional development and support vocational further training and thus meet our high quality requirements even in the future.

Respect and openness

Our dealings with one another are marked by esteem and acceptance. We conduct an open exchange of ideas with employees, residents, relatives, and all partners, so that we can benefit from their experience and knowledge for the good of all.

A sound financial background

The proper balance between quality, costs and performance, professional behavior, economic success, and a strong financial basis guarantee long-term security for our residents and employees. With new facilities and living arrangements, we continually grow and offer people in the region new jobs and prospects.
